rSchoolToday Activity Scheduler QuickStart Guide (Public View)

To access your rSchoolToday Activity Scheduler (AS), go to the Web address that has been provided to you. You may go straight to the conference site and then by selecting your school you will be able to access its own calendar.

The QuickStart Guide will show you the features that you as a user will have available in order to find the games you need as well as reports on them. Let's get started!

The Activities Calendar!

Under the 'View' option you will be able to select the month you would like to see on the calendar, by default the current month will show.

Once you select it the calendar will reload and you will see the first day of the month, as well as the calendar so you may choose any date to view.

On each calendar you will notice some dates with an underscore, that means there is one or more events scheduled on it. By clicking the dates you will load it on the calendar page that way see the events!

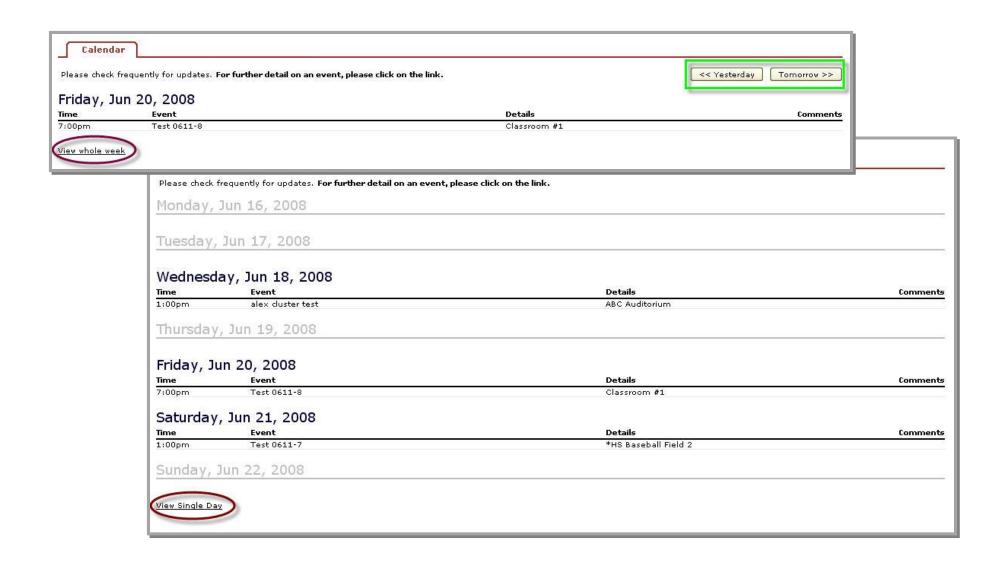

Under 'Notify me!' you will be able to add your email address in order to get the latest updates on your kids activities.

This option will allow you to subscribe to a weekly mailing list for the entire calendar from your school using xml feeds for it.

The Calendar will display according to your selection, week or day, the events for the current week displayed on the main calendar window.

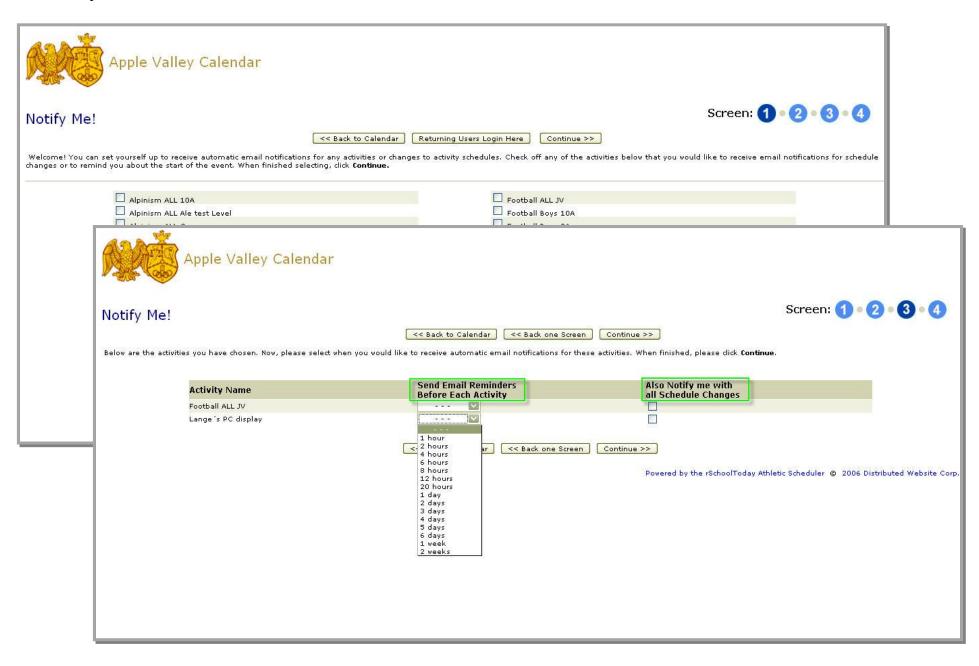

➤ View >>> To view specific activities, click on the activity or activities inside the View Schedules box you want to; then click on View. A new window containing the schedule of the activities you selected.

Tip: You can use Shift key or Ctrl key to select more than one activity. Thus, you can see the schedule for Baseball Boys Varsity only or for Baseball and Football or Soccer all levels, for instance. You can print or e-mail this report, in case you want to.

Advanced view >>> You will be redirected then to School Calendar - Advanced View page. Your School Calendar contains school only events, and Conference and Non-Conference events that your school is part of.

Notify me!

Click on the Notify Me located at the top of the page. In the following pages, check off the activities you want to receive notifications from.

Select how long before the start of each of these types of events that you want to receive email notification from the 'Send Email Reminders Before Each Activity' dropdown menu.
